He was one of the first men who came overland to the West in an ox cart in the days of '75, and he accompanied the late David McDougall of Morley on the latter's first visit to the West.

The funeral took place at Morley on Sunday afternoon and was attended by many oldtimers.

Suggests Conference of Western Provinces on Relief Matters

A conference of premiers of the four west provinces to consider relief matters prior to the proposed Dominion-Provincial meet was suggested by Premier J. Bracken of Manitoba at Winnipeg on Saturday, commenting on the announcement from Ottawa of the new federal relief policy.

While pleased that the Dominion government has announced its intention of continuing its contribution to direct relief until August 15, the premier expressed regret that the government had considered it necessary to reduce its share from 33 per cent to 25 per cent.

"It is my intention to suggest to the premiers of Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia that we have a conference to consider the whole situation prior to the conference at Ottawa," stated Mr. Bracken.

A strong protest against the Dominion reducing its share of direct relief costs was made by Mayor Knott of Edmonton with Premier R. G. Reid.

The answer brought back to the Alberta cabinet by Hon. George Hooper, following an interview with Prime Minister Bennett in Calgary on Saturday, stated in effect as follows:

Twenty-five, instead of 33 1/3 per cent as the federal contribution to direct relief costs will hold, as announced from Ottawa, pending the all-Canada conference on the relief situation to be held at the capital July 30.

Continuance of the one-third share basis was urged upon the prime minister in view particularly of the difficulties being experienced by the western provinces. But Mr. Bennett took the position that the Dominion government's decision, having been definitely made and given out, must apply to all the provinces.

Word has been received that Douglas M. Wordie, pupil of Mr. R. A. Gulliver, has been successful in passing the Elementary Grade for pianoforte in the Toronto Conservatory of music.

War Debt Revision Looms

Great Britain's action in deferring payment of the $201,701,000 instalment due the United States on June 15, has thrown the whole war debt problem again prominently into the field of international controversy. It poses the United States government with the inescapable necessity of making discussions preliminary to a complete review of the war debt situation. It forces a showdown.

Great Britain, of course, will not be satisfied with a mere review. It wants revision of the terms of settlement revision drastically downward. It wants as much consideration from its creditor as it (as creditor) has given its debtors. At the very worst, it seeks as generous treatment on principal and interest, as was given France and other countries by the United States.

In failing to make even a so-called "token" payment on the instalment due June 15, Great Britain informed the United States that the terms of the agreement between the two countries in respect of war debts imposed "a burden which was both unreasonable and inequitable in relation to other countries." The facts justify this statement. Whether intentionally or not, Britain has been adversely discriminated against.

Great Britain, according to the records, borrowed $1,277,000,000 from the United States, a large percentage of which was not for its own use, but on behalf of allied countries during the war. The money was spent in the United States for war material and was the real foundation of the extremely high wages paid munition workers in that country during the war. Since the Baldwin agreement which fixed the terms and conditions of repaying the war loans, Great Britain has made instalment payments aggregating $2,025,000,000. Because of the high comparative interest rate paid by Britain, however, London is still indebted to Washington in the sum of $1,175,785,000. That is to say, after paying back more than two billion dollars, Britain still owes more than the original debt.

Obviously, the situation clamors for reasonable adjustment from that aspect alone. There are other, equally cogent, reasons why revision should be made. There are irrefutable arguments why the debt problem should be solved finally and amicably. That war debts should remain a subject of international controversy, cropping up periodically to stir prejudices and animosities, is a reflection upon the intelligence of the two great English-speaking nations towards whom the world looks for preservation of concord among the countries of the world.

Great Britain's agreement to pay instalments in the amount of approximately $202,000,000 was predicated, in the first place, upon expectations of a similar amount being paid by France and other European countries in respect of war debts due London. Britain lent more than she borrowed. In order to avoid financial and economic chaos, however, the British government decided to suspend all claims against debtor nations for payments on war debts, and takes the position now that, if it must pay the United States in full, it must exact payment of a corresponding amount from its own war debtors. The position is quite understandable and undoubtedly reasonable.

"Such procedure," said the British note to Washington, "would throw a bombshell into the European situation which would have financial and economic repercussions over all five continents, and would postpone indefinitely the chances of world recovery."

Consequently, Britain politely suggests the United States should do its bit "to speed world recovery by recognizing the realities of the situation and reviving pending agreements on a payable basis."

The question is not the Great Britain is anxious to escape payment of its indebtedness. Suggestions have emanated from London, from time to time, for liquidation of the entire obligation by lump sum payment. Washington has not viewed this suggestion favorably, heretofore. In fact, an intransigent position has been taken by some of the most vocal of American legislators who take the "pound of flesh" viewpoint. Furthermore, Britain's failure to make even a payment on account of "token" payments such as it was listed in June and December 1933, has been attributed to the Johnson Act, passed this year, which specified that any nation not making payment in full on the due date, would be considered as in default.

The British note is couched in language which the people of Western Canada will appreciate and approve. It strikes a mainly note of independence and forthrightness. While declaring payment would be deferred until "it becomes possible to discuss an ultimate settlement of inter-governmental war debts with a reasonable prospect of agreement" the note asserts the British government has no intention of repudiating its obligations.

Making China Seas Safe

Marine Department Continues Work To Provide Guidance For Ships

Typhoons do not tell the whole story of the China seas. Fog may assail the shipping on the Chinese coast at almost any time, and storms independent of the typhoon are frequent. The coast itself is as dangerous and the sets of its tides as treacherous as any in the world. Casual islands and shoals demand the utmost vigilance, and the seamen who man Chinese junks are no mean masters of the ancient craft of navigation.

The lighting of the China coast is not a century old. The National Lighthouse Service was founded about the middle of the nineteenth century by Sir Robert Hart, who was authorized by the government of the day to start a system of lighting for the benefit of navigation. Sir Robert possessed himself of a few qualified experts, and he and his handful of foreigners established the nucleus of a service which, in the Chinese Maritime Customs, now provides guidance not only to ships at sea but to the countless craft navigating the rivers of China and in particular the Yangtze.

The romance of the Marine Department of the Chinese Maritime Customs has yet to be written. This organization, originated by Sir Robert Hart and his devoted helpers, has developed unobtrusively, and its traditions and efficiency have been maintained by successive Inspectors-General.

For the last five years or so bandits have waylaid the staff engaged in marauding out channels for navigation. They have removed beacons and buoys which have been promptly replaced and have subjected the Customs launches to such unsolicited malignance that those craft now have to be protected by metal plates and shut up like sardine tins. Near Anking, the capital of Anhwei, there is a Christmas Island, a favorite spot for the bandits in the Lower Yangtze. Twelve robberies of lighthouses or lightboats occurred there in 1931.

But the work proceeds, the course is kept open. The Tungting Lake has been lately surveyed. Improved marks have been established and the River Inspectorate has added to its store of knowledge and given it to the river public in thousands of notices.

Flag Made By Prisoners

Union Jack Secretly Made in German Camp During War

Made in a German camp during the World War, a British Union Jack was used during the unveiling recently of a memorial in Manchester, England. Es-Deity Officer James Allen, who thought the flag home, said it was made by prisoners in Sprottau, Silesia. "A Russian, who was allowed out," he said, "used to smuggle in a little bit of cloth at a time, and in the tailor's shop another Russian secretly made it up to the Union Jack of the British. We produced it first at the funeral of one of the British prisoners, and in all it was used on 21 such occasions. Only once did the Germans show any objection. The flag was drying on the wall, and when an inspecting general saw it he stopped, snarled, 'Shavenheads', and passed on. Each member of his staff did likewise."

Japanese Trade Invasion

Now Penetrating Markets United States

Japan's steady successful invasion of traditional United States export markets was disclosed in the department of commerce annual world economic review for 1933. The report showed larger Japanese shipments of competitive articles to the United States by export increases to Latin America, a Japanese victory over American manufacturers in the battle for the Philippine textile trade, and increasing sales in Europe, Africa and elsewhere.

Almost Instant Relief From Neuralgia

For Quick Relief Say ASPIRIN When You Buy

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuralgia, — the latest sure relief, it is said, yet discovered. These results are due to a scientific discovery by which an Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrates, the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking. The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. An Aspirin Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And this is ready to go to work almost instantly. When you buy, though, be on guard against substitutes. To be sure you get ASPIRIN's quick relief, be sure the name Bayer in the form of a cross is on every tablet of Aspirin.

Zoo Fatality

Lions In Cage Kill Victim As Horrified Spectators Watch

While a crowd of horrified spectators looked on, four lions in an enclosure at Whipsnade, Eng., killed a zoo employee who had gone into their pit to recover a visitor's hat.

The owner of the hat and several other persons who tried to save the victim, Stanley Lewis Stenson, were driven back by the lions, two of which were eventually killed by keepers before they could recover Stenson's body.

Stenson, employed in the catering department of the zoo, apparently decided suddenly to attempt to retrieve the hat and went into the enclosure between the outer barrier and the railing surrounding the pit in which the lions are kept.

As he crawled along the top of the inside railing two of the lions reached through the bars and began mauling him.

Stenson was unable to get away from the lions' claws and several spectators went into the place to try to pull him away, but were not successful as the two lions held him in the attack through the bars.

Stenson then fell into the pit, striking his head on the concrete about 16 feet below. The lions dragged him further into the pit and killed him as the horrified spectators screamed and several women fainted. The keepers had to shoot two of the lions before they were able to drive the others into their cages at the far end of the pit.

Shined Shoes Of Prince

Veteran Bootblack Had Many Experiences In Fifty Years

Hardy Bert of Digby, Nova Scotia, veteran bootblack, once shined the shoes of the late King Edward VII., who was then Prince of Wales, and a visitor in Toronto. He will celebrate his 78th birthday in July.

A master of his trade with more than 50 years' experience, he has put up his "old stand" in the same place for the past 35 years. When he was younger he travelled, and shoes to which he applied polish and brush were the pride of their owners in New York, Toronto, Halifax, Saint John, and many other cities.

"Hardy Bert," as he is called, says that he has seen lean years, but looks forward to a bright future because he is drawing an old-age pension.

Invents New Material

Belgian Major Says It Will Make Airplanes Fireproof

Major Van de Bollen of the Belgian Army declares he has invented a material which will make airplanes fireproof. Plates of asbestos are soaked in three chemical baths and then baked at high temperatures. Tests were made recently near Brussels. To demonstrate its value documents were put into two boxes made of the new material, and these were plunged into a blazing fire for a quarter of an hour. The papers received no injury whatever. A miniature monoplane was also covered with this preparation and then soaked in gasoline and ignited. The flames burned themselves out without any injury to the plane. To show his confidence the major sat for 10 minutes in the pilot's seat with the plane blazing all round him. The temperature in the cabin never rose above 74 degrees.

Animals As Witnesses

Were Used In Sardinia Until Few Years Ago

Animals were used as court witnesses in Sardinia up to a few years ago. When a solitary householder killed an alleged burglar he was brought to trial and made to swear that the homicide was justifiable. The oath was taken before one of the dogs, cats or birds that witnessed the killing. If the animal did not manifest some contradictory sign the prisoner was set free.

Movement Of Low Pressure Area Has Decided Effect On Rainfall In Western Provinces

The thirst quenched, the drought is forgotten. A few showers of rain fall, and the refreshments of the soil allay the anxiety bred in the drought. The scars are forgiven. This fallibility is human, but it cannot divert the climatic cycles. These go their way, advancing or receding. They are beyond all laws, and either may be ruled by fixed phenomena or veiled by Nature's unpredictable whims. Which of these orders our climate, none can say. The meteorologists cannot. They can, after all, record climate only as it reveals itself.

And the overwhelming climatic revelation in this part of the world in recent years is that its low pressure area has moved. It used to lie, roughly, across the Kansas line. It has gone north, and is estimated to be far north of here, perhaps in the Barrens.

This movement of the low pressure area has definite climatic effects, which can be stated in simplest, though probably inexact, terms. The laden warm air from the Caribbean Sea provides the moisture for the centre of this continent. It rolls up the vast central region, passing on northward across three prairies.

As this laden air reaches the low pressure area, due process produced the rain that fell on the prairies. Without that low pressure area, above which the warm air rose, there could not be the distilling process, and there would be no rain. So when the low pressure area moved, the moisture in the air from the Caribbean was not distilled, but was carried, unaffected, beyond us. The rain that ought to have been falling on us for the last few years is presumed to have been falling far north in the Barrens.

Why the low pressure area has moved is not explained. When it will return, or that it ever will return, is not known. Its movement, whatever its causes, is independent of human activities. It cannot be stayed, and it cannot be replaced. Whether it has reverted to its southern latitudes, or whether it ever will, the scientists seem unable to say.

The present rain may be a result of a return of the low pressure area to a line south of here, but there is nothing to insure that return remaining fixed. But if it has returned, and means to stay put, the consequences will soon assert themselves on the meteorological charts. The laden air from the south will have its moisture extracted to drop in freshening rain on our fields, again to permeate our soils and give the yields of our culture. The relief is a boon, a blessing, but it depends on the degree of fixity of the low pressure area. So long as that stays south of us, our fruitfulness shall not be stinted. Should it persist in staying far north of us, drought must continue over the centre of the continent, as it has done more or less for the last few years. Winnipeg Free Press.

Saskatchewan Game Fish

Now Taking Trout From Lakes That Never Had Fish Before

Canada now has game fish in formerly barren lakes in the Maritime and prairie provinces, and in British Columbia. J. A. Reid, director of fish culture, Dominion department of fisheries, told the senate committee on sealing and fisheries.

"Fishermen in Saskatchewan are now taking 10-pound trout from lakes that never knew fish before," Mr. Reid stated. "European brown trout were transplanted to the Cypress lakes, Saskatchewan, in 1931, and Regina fishermen are taking trout up to 10 pounds."

"Whitefish from Lake Winnipeg were transplanted to the Quill lakes, Saskatchewan, which are highly alkaline," Mr. Reid said. "These fish are propagating."

Conserving Game In Africa

System Of National Parks Similar To That In Canada To Provide Sanctuary For Wild Life

The Minister of the Interior has just received from the Secretary of State for External Affairs, Canada, a concise report on the International Conference for the Protection of Fauna and Flora of Africa. At the conference, which met in London, the following governments were represented: Union of South Africa, Belgium, Great Britain, Egypt, Spain, Abyssinia, France, Italy, Portugal, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

The conference concluded that the natural fauna and flora of Africa were in danger of extinction or permanent injury and steps are to be taken for their preservation by the governments represented. Canada, in company with all other nations, would suffer from the destruction of these resources of Africa. The chief interest to Canadians in the result of the conference is that it was the unanimous conclusion of the delegates that the best way to preserve the fauna and flora was by the establishment of National Parks in representative districts within which areas the destruction of wild life and of flora would be prohibited. In this matter of the establishment of National Parks in virgin areas to preserve them in their primeval condition Canada is in line with the foremost countries of the world. Moreover the fortunate thing is that Canada began this work early in her development with the result that it has been done in the most economical manner. In this way there are being conserved, both for Canadians and for visitors from abroad, areas of grandeur and loveliness containing indigenous animals and plants resources which might otherwise have been completely lost to the nation.

Likes Being Cave Man

Tourists on the Elchberg, near Gloggnitz, Lower Austria, came upon a wild-looking man in a cave. At first he fled from them, but eventually he spoke to them and proved to be an educated man born in Vienna. Long unemployment had caused the man to flee the haunts of men. He lives on berries and mushrooms, and says he has no wish to return to civilization.

British Scientists Will Carry On Scientific Investigation In Canadian Arctic Archipelago

Demand For B.C. Vegetables

Fraser Valley White Growers Find Market On Prairies

From comparatively small beginnings, commercial vegetable production by white growers of the Fraser Valley has developed this year into a million dollar industry.

Large quantities of produce are not only being supplied to Vancouver markets, but at least 70 carloads of vegetables will roll to the prairie provinces this season.

Until a few years ago, Oriental growers practically controlled production and marketing of the vegetables of the lower mainland.

Diminishing returns in the dairy and poultry industries forced the white farmers to develop other sources of income and vegetable production has become a vital factor in helping the farmer to balance his budget.

The venture has proved a pronounced success.

Through close study of application of fertilizers, crop rotation, use of select seed, and modern cultural methods, the white growers in B.C. today are producing a standard of vegetable unexcelled.

Fat Stock Show Postponed

Saskatoon To Hold Annual Exhibition Early In August

Saskatoon's Fat Stock Show, announced for June, has been postponed until the annual exhibition early in August, according to manager K. W. Johns. It was found that the quota for export is now practically filled and that in all probability there would be quite a reduction in cattle prices during June. The next year's quota, however, starts on July 1, and although this means keeping the cattle another six weeks the exhibition authorities decided it would be a kindness to the exhibitors to delay the sale.

Frog Disturbed Prisoners

Because the nocturnal croakings of an imprisoned frog disturbed the slumbers of county prisoners, workmen took out the waiving of the basement walls of the county jail at Bellingham, Wash., in an effort to free the sequestered croaker. Sheriff T. C. Fraser ordered the frog hunt after receiving complaints for the past two weeks from prisoners.

"Yes," said the enthusiastic meteorologist, "it'll do eighty-five." "Per hour, per gallon or perhaps?" inquired the wage.

It was announced by Honourable Thomas G. Murphy, Minister of the Interior, that permission had been granted for a party of British scientists, headed by Professor J. M. Wordie, M.A., of St. John's College, Cambridge, to carry on scientific investigations and collect specimens along the eastern and southern coasts of Ellesmere Island and westward to the Parry Islands.

The expedition which sailed from Aberdeen, Scotland, on May 24 in the "Heimann" a seventy-ton sailing schooner will proceed to the Canadian Arctic archipelago via Cape Farewell, Greenland, stopping at Dulo Island to refuel. From there the expedition will follow the west coast of Greenland and it is expected will cross Melville Bay in June. If ice conditions permit, Skagway will be negotiated immediately; if not the expedition will continue along the Greenland Coast to Etah and then cross to Bache Peninsula.

Working south along the east coast of Ellesmere Island, the ship will turn into Jones Sound, where surveys of the coasts of the islands to the north will be made. Ornithological, botanical, geological, and ethnological investigations will also be carried out by the various members of the party. Returning east through Jones Sound the expedition will turn south and enter Lancaster Sound in an attempt to navigate the icy passage of Barrow Strait and reach Melville Island in the heart of the mainland. The ship to Melville Island is expected to take place in August, and upon its conclusion the expedition will proceed down the Baffin Island coast and cross Baffin Bay to Cape Farewell on the home-ward voyage.

The Dominion government's permits cover the taking of such scientific specimens as migratory birds and game animals, excluding muskoxen which are rigidly protected; geological and botanical specimens; and will also allow the investigators to examine Eskimo ruins. The party which is headed by Mr. J. M. Wordie, M.A., includes the following for whom permits have been granted: Sir John Harlan, biologist; Dr. T. G. Longstaff, medical officer and radiologist; C. W. Dalgle, ornithologist; Lieut. W. C. Fletcher, R.N., ice navigator and surveyor; T. T. Patterson, ethnologist and archaeologist; Ian Cox, geologist and anthropologist; H. P. Harlan and H. W. Ritchie, camp assistants.

A Meadow That Floats

Strip In Germany Rises When Raines Swell River

When spring rains swell the tiny river Hamme, near the small city of Osterholz, in Hanover, Germany, and it floods its banks a strip of meadow on the south side, from two-thirds of a mile to a mile wide and three and one-half miles long, begins to rise, with all its trees, including even great oaks and larches. The whole meadow is afloat, and even in normal times one feels it give under the feet. Some 200 years ago the river is said to have blossomed a small farm with house and barn and carried it on an hour's doze, and so gently that the sleeping family did not waken.

In Hundred Years

The Toronto Globe says one hundred years ago the fastest way made that a swift passenger vessel was making the trip from Kingston to Toronto in sixteen hours. In those days also completion of the coach journey between this city and Hamilton during daylight hours was guaranteed. During the century there has been some speeding up both in land and water transportation.

Receives Appointment

Lieut. Col. Desmond Burke, noted Canadian officer and once winner of the King's prize at Biele, has been appointed assistant medical officer of the Governor-General's Footguards. He recently graduated in medicine from Queen's University. Lieut. Burke has worn the Guards' uniform for several years.

Fran Seger (left), wife of Herr Gertrud Seger, formerly a Socialist member of the Reichstag, arrived at Croydon Aerodrome, London, after her release from a German concentration camp near Dessau, where she was met by her husband. Frau Seger was arrested as a house agent; her husband had escaped from a concentration camp and it was through the efforts of Mrs. M. C. Tate, British Member of Parliament (right), that Frau Seger was released. The happy couple had not seen each other for six months.

J. E. Goads - Editor & ManagerAlberta Crop Report.

Week Ending July 14.

All crops in Alberta are at present making good progress under more or less ideal growing conditions, with the exception of the east-central section, where early drought and the "hoppers" have left their mark, and where July rains have not been as heavy or frequent as in other areas. In this section the grain crops will be light.

Over most of the province the first half of July has brought considerable moisture, the rains having varied from occasional showers at intervals of a few days in southern Alberta, to frequent and heavy rain storms in central and northern areas. The result is a very satisfactory supply of moisture which verges on superabundance in some of the central and northern districts where the need of a period of warmer weather is beginning to be felt, and where an extension of the present rainy spell would mean a somewhat serious retarding of crop development.

The past two weeks have been characterized by violent electrical disturbances and severe hail storms over a portion of central Alberta, where heavy damage has been done to crops in limited areas, this reaching as high as 75 to 100 per cent. in individual cases. Districts chiefly affected lie between Red Deer and Edmonton, and east towards the Saskatchewan border. There has also been some damage in a few isolated districts in southern Alberta.

The fear of damage by frost is indicated in some of the reports from the west-central and northern districts, but while the temperature has dropped to low points in one or two of these districts, the damage thus far has not been severe or extensive.

Most of the wheat in the province is headed out and showing a good healthy stand, with rank growth in some of the central districts. Coarse grains are also heading out, and showing good progress. Hay is progressing, and the regrowth crop will be fairly substantial, although light in number of districts. Later feed crops give promise of quite heavy yields, and there is every indication of a very nice improved feed situation this fall. Cattle are in good condition, but producers are somewhat anxious over the proposed restrictions in shipments to the British market.

There is a story of a certain sea captain and his chief engineer who disputed as to which of them was the most important in the ship. Failing to come to an agreement they resorted to the altogether practical plan of swapping places. The engineer ascended the bridge and the skipper went down into the engine room.

After a couple of hours the captain suddenly appeared on deck moved with oil and said: "One eye was swollen shut and he was very much the worse for wear." "Chief," he yelled, "why fooling with a monkey wrench, you'll have to come below at once, I can't make her go!"

"Of course you can't," said the chief engineer calmly, removing his pipe from his mouth, "she's ashore!"

Hay and Harding Ltd.

Located at 1439 10th Ave. East, are makers of truck bodies for all purposes; moving vans, refrigeration school buses, etc. also are repair-ers of damaged cars; make and fit doors; do upholstery, trimming, painting, fender straightening, bolt welding, and have glass replacement service. One of the most complete shops of its kind. Under the direction of Mr. J. C. Scott.
A modern establishment of this kind is recognized as an important asset in any city. Quality first is always the chief consideration with efficient workmen and complete facilities insure the best results. This policy has built an enviable reputation for Hay & Harding Ltd.

The company is prepared to handle all kinds of automobile body, fender, instruction and repair work at prices consistent with the trend of the times —within reach of the average pocketbook. They specialize in the rebuilding of damaged and wrecked cars. They do the upholstery and have established a reputation as builders of coach and bodies for pleasure and communal purposes to meet special requirements. The refinishing and trimming of auto tops is another angle of their work. There is nothing that more appearance of a car as does a worn out, faded or damaged top, and such work is rapidly replaced at a very expense ordinarily. In the rebuilding and fitting of doors it is said that the fitting of doors on a regular factory made body involves more expense and effort than any other section of the body. Fitting doors that will swing smoothly, lock and do not warp or spring out of shape. Thus it is that the reconditioning of doors that have been damaged requires skill and experience. This concern can save patrons no small sum in handling this work, and put your car on the road without undue delay.

In their paint department they offer rationally known finishes that are durable, will not peel or check. A wide range of color schemes and grades of work are quoted for passenger cars and trucks. The many jobs they have turned out have satisfactorily met the requirements of their patrons.

has produce to market.

Thousands of dollars are brought into this section each year through the trade channels created over by them and many people are thus afforded employment. The fact that their trade extends for a radius of many miles of Calgary brings new faces, new business and adds prosperity to the city and community.

In establishing the firm, it has been the policy to supply the trade—retail merchants and restaurants, a service which they specialize with the highest standard merchandise. The top market price is paid at all times for fruits, berries, vegetable and country products.

In reviewing the business interests of Calgary, it is the publisher's wish to place the service rendered by this concern before the public, believing that the readers will take a genuine interest in knowing of their operations and will also serve as a reminder to the farmer or merchant who may be in a quandary as to a suitable firm to deal with.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

The House of Commons in committee of ways and means, approved the amendment to the gold tax moved by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, finance minister.

The disarmament conference adjourned June 12, for a long "breathing space" in which governments will attempt to settle outstanding political difficulties.

Expansion of the British air force, announced some time ago, contemplates the addition of 50 squadrons, totalling roughly 600 machines, it was learned.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Quaker Oats elevator at Des Moines, Iowa. More than 6,000 bushels of grain in the house were ruined. The loss was covered by insurance.

John Duncan, veteran railway telegrapher, died recently in Toronto, aged 91. He succeeded to the job of the late Thomas Alva Edison, famous inventor, held as telegrapher on the Northern Railway.

Market For Timothy Seed

Shortage In Production Is Opportunity For Western Growers

Domestic production of Timothy seed in Canada is still far short of consumption, this noted in a report of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, indicating an opportunity for growers in the West. Timothy ordinarily yields from 200 to 300 pounds of seed per acre, and growers have received on an average about 60 cents per pound for the seed base No. 1 grade, over the past three years. Canada uses annually about ten million pounds of timothy seed and until 1921 some nine million pounds of this was imported from the United States. Domestic production since 1921 has been greatly stimulated by educational activities and the prospect of a large domestic market. As a result, production increased from less than a million pounds to some five million pounds in 1922 but declined to about 2,700,000 pounds in 1923.

Melons Save Bank Notes

Unusual Happening In Fire At Constantinople Lays Courts

A few weeks ago a great fire destroyed the Law Courts at Constantinople. The damage done was very heavy but the chief concern of one official centered in a safe in which he had stored bank notes to the value of $5,000. Fortunately the safe was located amid the debris and to all appearances it was a mass of warped metal but the door was forced and it was found that the money placed there by the cashier could be saved. The official had placed in the safe two large melons and they had given off sufficient steam during the fire to prevent the complete destruction of the notes. Some damage had been done but the number of the notes were visible and the State Bank accepted them.

Appreciates the Press

It is well to know that there is at least one man in public affairs who has an appreciation of the press, says the Lehigh Herald. This is Lord Londonderry, Secretary for Air in the British government. Speaking of the British press he said: "We find the press men fair and helpful, springing in their criticism and generous in their praise." This is regarded by the press in the light it deserves to be regarded.

Air Mail Across Canada

Coast-To-Coast Airmail In 19 Hours Is Predicted

A coast-to-coast air mail service in 19 hours, travelling in aeroplanes capable of flying the sky lanes from Montreal to Vancouver at a speed of more than 200 miles an hour, is the hope of Canadian airmen.

Squadron Leader A. T. Cowley, superintendent of air regulations, when in Calgary on an inspection tour, outlined plans for the fast mail service of the future to be put in operation when economic conditions are better.

The proposed route would take a western aerial trail via Regina, Lethbridge and the Crow's Nest pass to Vancouver, making a direct mountain crossing to the coast. A branch service would be maintained from Calgary to Lethbridge.

Fair Wage Schedule

New Ruling For Manitoba Applies To Private As Well As Public Works

Hon. W. R. Clubb, Manitoba minister of public works and labor, recently announced a new fair wage schedule for the province, applying for the first time to private as well as public works and containing reductions of from five to 10 per cent. from last year's rates for a large section of the building trades.

The new rates become effective June 15 and were worked out after two months' study by the fair wage board. One set of rates is for Winnipeg and territory within a 30-mile radius and another for the rest of the province.

Stone masons have been allotted two months' study by the fair wage board. One set of rates is for Winnipeg and territory within a 30-mile radius and another for the rest of the province.

"Did any of your ancestors do things to cause posterity to remember them?" asked the haughty woman.

"I reckon they did," replied Farmer Corns. "My grandfather put mortgages on this place that ain't paid off yet."

Raining Gold

Particular Phenomena Is Reported In India As Result Of Earthquake

The world may talk of gold standards and gold hoarding but in India it has been raining gold. Outlying districts in which seismic disturbances were felt recently, reported a shower of fine powdered gold and told stories of gold clouds of dust floating low over the country side.

The secret of the color of the dust was revealed when scientists analyzed samples and discovered that the dust contained fine particles of the precious metal. The dust clouds came as a result of the earth shocks which the scientists suggested forced to the air delicate particles from deep rock fissures.

New Marketing Board

Marketing Board, and will work with the Dominion and Provincial governments in the future, in order to bring about many improvements in the sheep raising business in British Columbia. William Harrison, S. H. Ford, George Dabiel, Robert Heron, L. Hoover and George Hay make up the personnel of the board.

Beacon For Aircraft

Illuminated Fountain At Essex, England, Is Prominent Sky Sign

Pillars of light will shine forth nightly in Essex, England, for the guidance of mariners and airmen. A pillar of colored lights nearly 100 feet high provided by an illuminated fountain rising apparently from the sea will be a prominent sky sign off St. Leonards during the coming summer nights. In fine weather it will be visible from the French coast, and will be a beacon for aircraft using St. Leonards airport.

An Admiralty Court

Canada Has Passed Another Constitutional Milestone

Canada passed another constitutional milestone recently when the House of Commons gave third reading to a bill designating the exchequer court of Canada as an admiralty court. Admiralty litigation has been heard for years by the exchequer court but under an Imperial Act, the 1929 conference on merchant shipping legislation reported control of admiralty courts was not in accord with the constitutional status of the Dominions as established at the 1926 Imperial conference. The bill, sponsored by Minister of Justice Hugh Guthrie, gave Canada control over admiralty courts and set forth the necessary regulations. It passed through committee stage in less than five minutes and passed the house without opposition.

An Unenviable Record

United States Leads With Total Of 10,617 Murders

The lowest per centage of murders goes to the credit of Holland, with Great Britain a good second. The highest is to the discredit of Chile, but the highest total is recorded in the United States. In Chile, during 1922, the last year for which statistics are complete, there were 2912 murders, equivalent to 61 per 100,000, or one murder every three hours. The United States show 8 1/2 per 100,000, the total is 10,617. The highest per centage in Europe goes to Belgium, with 186 murders, but Germany has the largest aggregate (1,223) though this averages only 1.88 per 100,000 of the population. In the nine countries under review the total murders amounted to no fewer than 16,108.

Little Journeys In Science

RADIUM

(By Gordon H. Quest, M.A.)

In 1910 Madame Curie culminated many years of efforts, when she succeeded in isolating radium and giving to the world a new science, that of radio-activity. This French lady has since become a figure of international importance for her work in connection with radium. Of Polish origin, she began the work with her husband, Pierre Curie, a professor of physics at the Sorbonne, in Paris. Today she still directs radium research in the Radium Institute, on the Avenue Pierre Curie, in Paris. This institute was built as a memorial to Professor Curie who died in 1906, and thirty workers carry on studies in radio activity, under the direction of Madame Curie.

Radium is taken from pitchblende, where it occurs in very small quantities. It is estimated that three tons of pitchblende, which is sometimes called uranium oxide, contain about one gram of radium. The world supply of radium is said to be about 170 grams, and the chief source of supply is in the Belgian Congo. It was at first valued at from $100,000 to $125,000 a gram, but with the discovery of new sources of supply it has come down to from $80,000 to $70,000 per gram. At the Radium Institute are two grams of the substance, one of which two produced by the Curies in their early work and one of which was presented to Madame Curie by the women of America when she visited this continent several years ago.

Radium, however, is a long lived substance. In spite of the fact that it gives off extremely concentrated rays of heat and light, it does not diminish appreciably in volume or strength, and it is said that one gram of radium would lose half its volume by radiation in 1700 years. Through these calculations scientists have been able to determine on the age of the earth, through the study of radio active substances found on its surface.

Because of the extremely strong powers of penetration possessed by the rays given off by radium, it has found many uses in science and industry. Outstanding is the development of its use in the treatment of some types of cancer and of numerous skin diseases.

In industry it is used in the production of a luminous paint, familiarly seen on the faces of clocks and watches.

In recent years large deposits of pitchblende have been discovered in Canada, in the region of Great Bear Lake near the Arctic Circle. It is expected that within the next few years this deposit will increase the world's supply of radium sufficiently to bring down the price considerably.

The Panama Canal

Building Made Possible Only Through Concessions From British

Arthur Brisbane, protesting in the Hearst papers against Great Britain's failure to pay her debt to the United States, suggests that the Panama Canal rates might well be doubled against her. But the Panama Canal was built under an international agreement whereby the rates for British and American vessels would be the same. It ought not to be forgotten that the building of the canal was only made possible through certain British concessions. — Toronto Mail and Empire.

KNOX UNITED CHURCH NOTES

At the evening service on Sunday at 7:30 the pastor's sermon subject will be "Habakkuk—the Puzzled Prophet." Come and bring a friend with you.
The congregation of Knox church enjoyed a splendid solo Sunday night by Miss Elsie Stock of Olds who sang "Beside Still Waters" in a very pleasant manner.
"If every church member were like me, what kind of a church would my church be?"
